

MARRIED.
On the 13th of September, 1864, in Gallipolis, Ohio, by Rev. M. H. Webb, M. D., of the 14th of September, 1864, the same, Mr. John M. Fisher and Miss Maria Adkinson.

DIED.
In the afternoon of Monday, Maria Louisa, wife of George W. Jackson, Esq., of this place, and daughter of the late Dr. Augustine J. Smith, of Winchester, Va., in the 31st year of her age.
Coming to the domestic affliction which, in the all-wise Providence of God, the departed was called to endure the past two years; in the long and painful sickness preceding the death of her first child, and more recently in the feebleness and final death of her second; her time was almost exclusively occupied in the exercise of her maternal sympathies, and her home duties, in the discharge of which, she was sustained by a long cherished trust in her Saviour's merits, through whose heavenly grace she became resigned and peaceful, so that when called herself, to obey the summons, she seemed almost painless, and to be comforted by a sense of her Saviour's love, and the prospect of a speedy meeting with her little ones that had gone before her. Her surviving friends feel assured that they will find support in their deep affliction by the conviction that she died in the comfort of a reasonable religious and holy hope, and that she now sleeps in Jesus.

On Saturday morning last, after a few hours illness, LEAH M. second daughter of George W. Jackson, Esq. of this place, wife, aged 21 months, died at 17 days.
This is the second of their offspring which these young parents have been called to part with since their arrival here—Christina, 1858. One is left, the last-born, the other two, after passing their infant days on earth, are gone up "the shining way" at the bidding of the good Shepherd. "Suffer them to come unto me." Oh the mysteries of Providence and of Redeeming love!
The body of little Leah—the first born—lies beneath the Cedar tree in the Cemetery at Ironton; that of little Leah, in young grave yard, within reach of parental eyes; but where are they? Street faith comes to us on the wings of inspiration and tells us; their loving and beautiful little bodies in the bosom of their Angel-keepers, beyond the reach of all earthly sorrows. This is the redeeming hope of the true Christian; and yet we who are sorrowing for her loss, are participating with their infant treasures! For "What is home without the children? The heart without its sunshine? Life is withered to the core. So we'll have the pretty dream, And we'll follow the good Shepherd To the greener pastures vernal, Where the little have "gone before." With the Shepherd evermore."

DRY GOODS

HATS AND NOTIONS,

No. 4 ENTERPRISE BUILDING, PORTSMOUTH, O.

I WOULD call the attention of Merchants and Furmen in the neighboring counties of Ohio, Kentucky, and Virginia, to the splendid stock of Dry Goods, just received. The variety is uncommonly fine; embracing the latest and most attractive styles adapted to the Winter Trade. Nearly all descriptions of Goods will be found as low, and some Goods lower than they can now be purchased of Eastern Jobbers. As prices are still advancing, merchants needing goods are recommended to purchase early for their January sales.
